It's Ant Season!

Licensed & Ready To Kill!

Spring Treatment is important because active insects will be heading inside to avoid sudden cold swings in the weather or to find an easy source of food for the season. A summer treatment fights new arrivals and in fall, a barrier treatment will prevent insects from seeking shelter from the cold.

Insects can invade your home through cracks in the foundation, partially open mortar joints, loose dryer vents, drains, loose-fitting window & door frames, sump pumps or any other openings from the outside. Perimeter pest control depends on application of a barrier treatment to all possible points of entry.

What Are The Benefits Of A Perimeter Pest Control Program?

Here are just a few reasons why you should have a perimeter pest control program around your home:

- ☐ Keeps unwanted pests from invading your home
- ☐ Isn't harmful to soil, flowers, bushes or lawn
- ☐ Controls many different types of pests
- ☐ Takes place outdoors - you don't need to be home during treatment
